Welcome Message from the President of ICCA

I look forward to welcoming all of you to the ICCA Congress that will be held in Mauritius from 8-11 May 2016. It is a special event for ICCA, marking the first time in 30 years that the ICCA Congress has been held in Africa. ICCA has always played an important role across the African continent as a whole. The ICCA Congress, in particular, is an opportunity to explore the role and related topics. It is hoped that participants will enjoy, in particular, the enriching of real experiences, which will enrich the dialogue and ensure that ideas are appropriately tested.

Since ICCA was opened to general membership in 1980, we have witnessed the tremendous value of member participation in our interest groups and committees. Our members now number nearly 1,000, and they play an important role in our work. ICCA has always been at the forefront of development and improvement. We aim to reach out to new markets and establish new partnerships. The ICCA Congress is an opportunity to explore the role of ICCA in the future of international arbitration.
